From the desk of Chief Functionary

The role of vocational training in productivity, employment and development has a great immense! Students leaving school, college and even university are finding it increasingly difficult to find employment in their chosen careers. Hence, so many are choosing the vocational route over more traditional 'academic' qualifications. In fact, there is no age boundary on gaining these much sought after qualifications and it is a fantastic way to prepare for the desired career. With competition for jobs at an all time high – NRM CW recommends vocational training in order to learn practical skills and enhance career development.

It's not just students who get benefit from practical training; businesses reap the rewards of employing a highly skilled employee who already benefits from real work experience. As a vocational training provider, NRM CW has taught more than 3000 boys and girls during the period of April 1, 2012 to 31st March 2013 at different locations and centers. They were made trained in computer application and data entry, mobile repairs, 2 wheelers repairs, embroidery, stitching, AutoCAD, motor binding, diesel pump set etc. Almost 40% to 75% students have been helped either to start their own business or engaged in any of the firms as per their skills.

From very beginning, we, at NRM CW, believe that development has to be holistic if we wish to break the vicious cycle of poverty and to bring real fruits to the neediest. We wish to bring a substantial change on the ground by focusing our energies on the above mentioned sectors as well as building our understanding about related issues. We, at NRM CW, firmly believe that a conducive and productive environment cannot be achieved unless all parameters of the development equation are adequately addressed. Apart from this, environmental protection and conservation has always been high on our agenda. We have encouraged people to plant more and more trees and do all what they can, to save the mother Earth!

These achievements speak of the quality of service and commitment to activities. We are contributing our share in facing global issues by implementing projects and program conducive to local conditions. In future also we will work to save biodiversity, and serve the society as much as we can! We would be happy if you join hands with us.

With warm regards,

Narendra K.Pandey

Activities

Jabalpur labour office- vocational training-Motorcycle/Stitching Mobile repair/Computer application

The vocational trainings have been arranged in the trades motor cycle repairs, stitching, computer application and mobile repairs by getting the sponsorship from Labour Office Jabalpur. 3 schools viz. Thakkar gram, Karia pathar and Kusmer have been selected as the venue and 6 to 8th class children were chosen for the training. The training was given 4 days in a week to children. 101 students (boys and girls) had given training at Thakkergram, 84 in Karia pathar and 107 in Kusmer. The training period was 13th January 2013 to 5th March 2013 but this was further taken ahead up to September 2013. Though the interest of the girls was less in motor cycle repairs trade but it was attended by them too. The training completed successfully and theory and practical parts were covered for all the trades.

Lab technician Rajgarh

Department of Health, GoMP Bhopal ordered through CMO Rajgarh to provide them 4 Lab technicians who shall render their services at government hospital Rajgarh. NRM CW provided 4 LTs and they successfully served to the public. The main duty was to test the collected sputum and if the person is found positive help him/her to avail DOT services. The appointment of these LTs helped a lot to give the services to the public as earlier a lot of problem was being faced by public especially the villagers.

DUDA Hoshangabad- Embroidery training

Embroidery is the handicraft of decorating fabric or other materials with needle and thread or yarn. Embroidery may also incorporate other materials such as metal strips, pearls, beads, quills, and sequins. Embroidery is most often recommended for caps, hats, coats, blankets, dress shirts, denim, stockings, and golf shirts. Embroidery is available with a wide variety of thread or yarn color. A characteristic of embroidery is that the basic techniques or stitches of the earliest work—chain stitch, buttonhole or blanket stitch, running stitch, satin stitch, cross stitch—remain the fundamental techniques of hand embroidery today. NRM CW gave training in hand embroidery to 30 women for a period of 3 months. After the successful training, 40% women were helped to be engaged at local market.

OBC & Minority Dept. –SDT

Under skill development training program, 4 centers viz. Bhopal, Mandideep, Bina and Narsingharh were selected as venues. rendered computer application training to 20 participants in the area. The message about the scheme was done through meeting, visit in the area, volunteered work for the benefit of the public etc. These meetings were separately arranged for men and women and some time they were combined also. The volunteered works were sanitation work on upper lack ghat etc.

Awareness campaign for Watershed Program

During the year, NRM CW organized aware campaigns in villages, Barkheda, Motipura and Gandhi gram to spread the awareness among the people regarding watershed development program. We told them about the objectives of the watershed program that watershed development aims to balance the conservation, regeneration and use by humans of land and water resources within a watershed. Common benefits from successful watershed development projects include improved agricultural yields and increased access to drinking water. The overall attributes of the watershed development approach, by and large, are three fold, viz. promoting economic development of the rural area, employment generation, and restoring ecological balance.

We apprised them regarding the components of watershed program. The components of watershed development programme would include; (i) soil and land management (ii) water management (iii) crop management (iv) afforestation (v) pasture or fodder development (vi) livestock management (vii) rural energy management (viii) other farm and non-farm activities (ix) and development of community skills and resources. All these components are interdependent and interactive.

World TB Day-24th March 2012"Stopping TB in my lifetime"

World Tuberculosis Day is an occasion to raise public awareness on a contagious disease that is treatable and preventable and yet has spread to epidemic proportions and continues to kill millions of people each year, especially in the developing world. The theme of World TB Day 2012 "Stopping TB in my lifetime" lends immediacy to the mission to halt TB and underlines the fact that everyone can make it his or her responsibility to eliminate the deadly disease from the face of the earth in the foreseeable future. The day offers an opportunity to focus on TB-related problems and solutions and to support worldwide efforts to control TB. NRMCW's officials and staff took part in the day and supported the world wide campaign.

World Environment Day- 5TH JUNE 2012

World Environment Day or popularly known as Environmental Day is observed every year on June 5 to promote awareness on the importance of preserving our biodiversity. It also aims to identify issues related to environment and ways to take corrective action. Let's pledge to make earth a better place to live in. To spread this message and create awareness among the public, World Environment Day (WED) 2012 is the right time to initiate solutions on environmental issues. NRMCW's officials and staff took the part to celebrate the day. They visited to nearby villages of Bhopal and distributed fruit tree saplings among the villagers and planted them at their home and in surrounding area. They were also advised to take care of the planted tree and spread the message among others.

International Literacy Day 8th September 2012

This year the theme of the Literacy Day is 'Adult Literacy and Life Skills'. NRMCW's officials and staff celebrated the day by taking an oath that they will help at least one boy or girl in their area for the study. A small fund was collected to buy some text books which will be distributed to a few selected families. NRMCW also decided that they will take steps to start adult literacy classes at Adarshnagar, a slum area in Bhopal at the earliest.

World AIDS Day 1st December 2012

World Aids Day is observed on December 1 every year to create awareness about the symptoms, causes and preventives of the pandemic disease HIV/AIDS that has taken an unprecedented number of lives. To accelerate efforts and spread alertness about the impact of scientifically proven prevention strategy World AIDS Day is observed globally. India has recorded a 57 percent drop in number of new HIV infections during the last decade, according to the latest figures from the National AIDS Control Organization (NACO).
